

Encompass Health to create new south central region and names Brad Kennedy as regional president

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 25, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Encompass Health Corp. (NYSE: EHC), formerly known as HealthSouth Corp., announced the intention to create, effective Jan. 1, 2019, a region for its inpatient rehabilitation segment to accommodate growth in the number of hospitals. The new south central region will include the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma. This realignment will increase the number of regions from six to seven.

Encompass Health has named Brad Kennedy as president of its south central region. Kennedy has served as a vice president in Encompass Health's central region since May 2016 and previously served as CEO of HealthSouth Rehabilitation Hospital - North in Memphis, Tennessee, and HealthSouth Rehabilitation Hospital of Cincinnati in Ohio. His new role goes into effect Jan. 1, 2019.

"Brad has shown continued success in every role he has held with our Company over the past several years," said Barb Jacobsmeyer, EVP, president of inpatient hospitals for Encompass Health. "An experienced and knowledgeable leader, Brad is a highly valued member of our team and will continue to make a great impact in his role as our newest regional president."

Prior to joining Encompass Health, Kennedy served as director of rehabilitation services at Baptist Memorial Health Care Corp. He completed the pre-physical therapy program at the University of Mississippi then completed his bachelor's degree in physical therapy from the University of Mississippi Medical Center. In addition, he holds a master's degree in business administration from Mississippi State University.
